The Display Screen Equipment Awareness course has been designed as a short course used to assess a users workstation and minimise the risk of injuries. There are many areas to cover, however this course makes it simple and manageable for users of all levels.

This DSE course explains the correct use of Display Screen Equipment for workstations. This course teaches you how to correctly evaluate your workstation and how to perform and prepare a Risk Assessment based on your personal DSE circumstances.

At SHEilds we noticed that people are searching for DSE and workstation assessments. So, we created this course as it has been identified that DSE assessments are one of the most important aspects of health and safety, as it affects the largest group in a modern workforce.

With this online course, we provide DSE Self-Assessment training, a DSE Risk Assessment Document and a certificate of completion when you have passed.
